

2017 Annual Report

Mission Moment

WHAT re:MIND MEANS TO ME:

re:MIND's impact on my recovery out of the deep, dark abyss I fell into a few years ago and its ongoing assistance in sustaining my mental health have given me my life back. Feeling what's in my heart is the only way to truly comprehend the depth of my gratitude.

re:MIND is where isolation ends. I know during the week that challenges I encounter can be brought to the support group where I will receive feedback on how other participants handled similar circumstances in their own lives, which will help me cope with mine in the future. Having a sanctuary of safety, understanding, and emotional support for individuals like me struggling with mental disorders is the most empowering and amazing gift we could ever hope to receive. When I leave the support group, I take with me all the camaraderie and emotional well-being of everyone there, giving me the courage to continue with confidence until the next group meeting.

I saw my first glimmer of light in a re:MIND support group; I felt a real smile inside. It took me off guard since I had felt so sad for such a long time. I remember very clearly thinking I want to feel that again. With the continued support of re:MIND, I now see much more light in my life than darkness. re:MIND saves lives every day, and I thank re:MIND with all my heart for saving mine.

SIXTH ANNUAL

help... hope... healing

re:MIND hosted its Sixth Annual Help...Hope...Healing Luncheon on September 26, 2017. This event helps to increase awareness of depression and bipolar disorders, engage people in an open conversation about mental health, and raise necessary operating funds for re:MIND's lifesaving support groups. During the luncheon, re:MIND launched its new name with over 350 guests in attendance. Under the gracious and enthusiastic leadership of luncheon co-chairs Elizabeth Jeffers and Marie Louise Kinder, re:MIND raised more than $325,000.

re:MIND was pleased to honor The Robert and Janice McNair Foundation with the Gary Levering Mental Health Impact Award. This award is named for re:MIND's founder, Gary Levering, whose vision and outreach brought community awareness to depression and bipolar disorders. The award recognizes the significant impact the recipients are making in the mental health community of Greater Houston. The Robert and Janice McNair Foundation has made critical strides in diminishing the stigma of mental illness and increasing awareness of mental health through its important contributions to medical research, generous support of local mental health agencies, and McNair Scholars in mental health.

The luncheon included a very special mission moment presented by David Kinder, a member of the re:MIND Board of Directors. With deep sincerity and a tender heart, David recounted his upbringing along with the story of his mother's affliction with depression.

Featured guest speaker John Tesh also shared personal experiences that reflected his humor, honesty, and perseverance especially when working toward mental wellness. John expressed gratitude for his health, and vowed to continue the conversation about mental illness and how it can affect anyone regardless of status in society.

We are very grateful for the generous support of the 2017 Help...Hope...Healing Luncheon Underwriters.
